

LOCAL PRODUCT LEIÐIN

There are many producers and restaurants within Katla Geopark and their number increases every year. In this local products trail we would like to point out to you some of our favorite places and products. They are all within the Geopark and their products are easily accesible, either online or in convenient locations. The links below are to their webpages or facebook pages, while on the next page you will find a short description of each of them

<https://eldsto.is/is/>

<https://midgardbasecamp.is/>

<http://www.thorvaldseyri.is/>

<https://www.hostel.is/hostels/vik-hi-hostel>

<https://skoolbeans.com/>

<https://icelandiclavashow.com/>

<https://smidjanbrugghus.is/>

<https://www.facebook.com/katlawoolvik>

<http://lindarfiskur.com/>

<https://www.facebook.com/Sandh%C3%B3ll-448941825154829>

Eldstö art and café

If you are looking for local y made pottery or artwokr, Eldstö art and café is the place you are looking for. Lovely design and many of the ceramiks contain ash from the 2010 eruption of Eyjafjallajökull volcano

Lava show

The greatest show on Earth, when it comes to hot flowing lava at least! During the show you will learn about the volcanoes within the Geopark, an incredible story of survival and ohh yeah get to experience being a few cm away from 1000°C lava. The Icelandic Lava show is in Vík

Midgard basecamp restaurant

A great restaurant, along with being a hostel and the base camp for Midgard Adventur tours, Midgard basecamp is the best place in Hvolsvöllur when you are looking for a dinner in a cozy atmosphere with a different surroundings than a "normal" restaurant

Smiðjan brugghús

Burgers and Beers, what more could you possibly want? Well the beers are from their own brewery, which you can see while you are dining in the restaurant, and the burgers are an absolute must have. We also highly recommend to order a side dish of deep fried cauliflower, its a game changer!

Þorvaldseyri

Þorvaldseyri is a farm nestling under the infamous volcano Eyjafjallajökull. The ash from the 2010 eruption, along with previous eruptions, have created a rich and fertile volcanic soil where rapeseed flowers grow well. The farmers then press it to get oil from the seeds of the flowers, creating a great rapeseed oil that you can buy at the farm

Katla wool factory

Is a new wool making company with a long history. Originally named Víkurþrjónn, but now named Katla wool factory, is making breathtakingly beautiful knitting products. You can see a selection of their products in most stores in Vík, or visit their webpage

Jams from Aesa (Æsa)

The jams from Aesa, spelled Æsa in Icelandic, can only be described as otherworldly! We recommend the crowberry jam as the first one to try, since that jam could not be more Icelandic in ingredients or nature. The crowberries are picked in an area called Botnar, where Æsa is from. You can buy the jams at Norður-Vík hostel or in Skool Beans Café in Vík

Lindarfiskur

is a fish farm that grows arctic char in the crystal clear waters of Eldvatn in Skaftárhreppur Municipality. Their main office is however in Vík, so if you are feeling like you want to cook for yourself on vacation, you can order some fish on via their facebook page

Skool Beans Café

Is a small and fun café in Vík, located in a yellow school bus. There you can find coffee roasted in Vík, a large collection of different teas and quite a few different varieties of hot chocolate. Soap, jewelry and pins are just a few other things you might find interesting there.

Sandhöll

Is a farm in an area called Meðalland where they grow, among other things, rapeseed flowers and barley and they are also a cow farm. Their products can be bought in many stores within the Geopark